...in a world that's constantly changing

Today is the first day of the rest of my life . . .

But, those were the days
my friend...

we'd live the life we chose...
for we were young and sure to have our way

And, we have basic things in common — the weather, baseball, hangovers,

he superiority of Friday over Monday
.. "T. G. I. F." we say,
"have a nice weekend"...

They dance before they learn there isn't anything that isn't music . . .

So start smiling and enjoy the miracle of now...

Involvement with people is always a very delicate thing ——

...it requires real maturity to become involved...,

I am so glad that you are here . . . It helps me to realize how beautiful my world is . . .

Every day brings new light . . .
and, only you and I can help the sun rise each morning . . .

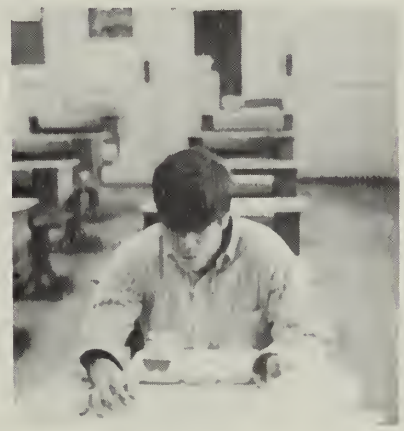
Beautiful people... somehow I never noticed you before today...

... we may never meet again...

So, get enough food, and eat it..



... and find a place to sleep where it is quiet, and sleep there...

...arrive at the silence of yourself, and listen to it.

Blessed are the sat upon, spat upon, ratted on . . .

Not everything that is faced can be changed . . .

But nothing can be changed until it is faced . . .

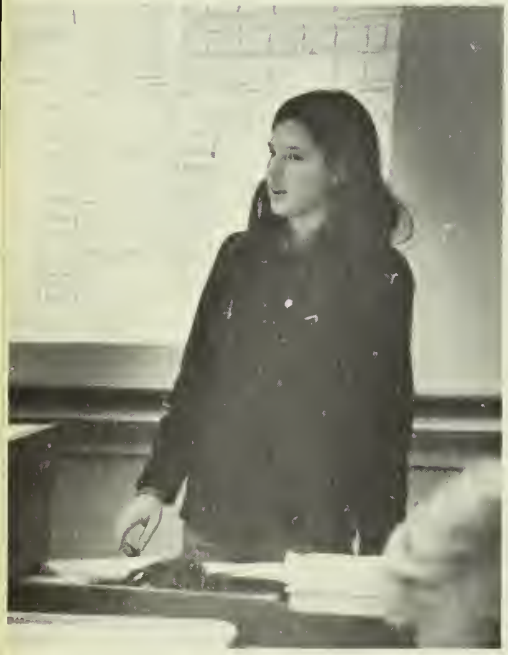
Old books, you never saw so many old books ... with weird titles... ... like ... "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm"...

Any star is enough... if you know what a star is.



The task before us now
if we would not fail,
is . . .
To build the earth.

A little work,
a little sleep,
a little love,
and its all over!

Class History

FRESHMAN

Remember September 6, 1967 — the first day of high school — searching on the third floor for your homeroom and later discovering it was in the basement? Could we ever forget that atomic bomb which exploded all our hopes for a 1967 Booster Day Float success? Remember being escorted at the Freshman Welcome by a Senior girl who was not only two feet taller but built heavier? Remember supplying lunches to the Student Patrol — just because your pass was three weeks old? What about those weekly bomb scares — none of which (unfortunately) were real? Remember deciding whether or not to work on tobacco — remember Mr. Bordeau saying sign up — or else?

SOPHOMORE

How about our Sophomore Social — Act I, when the kids showed but the band didn't — and Act II, when the band showed but the kids didn't? Airports are for planes, not for trains — remember proving this when our Turners locomotive "fell apart" coming down the hill on Booster Day? Or how about the snow sculpturing contest — when our VW magically became a snow castle? Remember "Show and Tell" in Sophomore Year English? How about our class rings — the graduating Seniors liked 'em and our class hated 'em! Do you remember trying to sing soprano in chorus — and then being told to try singing tenor or bass?

JUNIOR

Junior year — and another advisor, and another principal. Do you remember sitting in assembly with your feet on the chair in front of you, eating cookies, and doing your homework — do you remember turning around and meeting Mr. Zywna face to face? How about the guy with the "big mouth" — who blew six horns at once? Do you remember the teachers' lectures on "disgusting morals" — as you and your girlfriend strolled down the hall three feet apart holding hands? What about our Junior Prom All Night Party — when the girls traded in their gowns and flowers for jeans and a football? Do you remember the bat in 106 — and the scream that soon followed? Remember those long, drawn out nights rehearsing for Junior Prize Speaking — remember supplying Mr. Meehan with cookies, cakes, apple pies, ice cream, hamburgers, etc.? "Guys and Dolls" was a great success and many lucky juniors were able to participate in this memorable event!

SENIOR

Finally, we hit Senior year — remember meeting our fourth class advisor? Could we ever forget applying to colleges in Colorado and Michigan — only to find yourself next fall at G.C.C.? Remember having your own locker for the first time — and then finding a Freshman stuck in the corner of it? Finally our Booster Day float was a success — remember "Brewing up a Victory"? Remember getting back your Senior proofs — and realizing what you really look like? Remember taking the Betty Crocker Homemaker Test — and then finding out it was only for girls? Remember trying out for the Senior Play — and then wondering why you did? Remember reading this class history — and wondering how you ever made it through four years . . .?

Class Will

Terri Aitken leaves Mr. Meehan's U.S. History class to anyone who can take notes at computer speed.
Gary Aleksiewicz leaves at 200 m.p.h.
Betsy Aubry leaves the music department sadly, still hoping she'll find a Steinway somewhere.
Mari-Ann Bailey leaves still remembering the cold air coming from the vents in 207 and the library.
Janice Baird leaves the third floor to the pigeons.
Nancy Barry leaves her Algebra I class to any next year senior who takes it.
Deb Bellemare leaves all the memories of Mrs. Potter, fourth period Spanish class of 1969-1970, and the school lunches to anyone smart enough to buy them.
Alice Billings leaves a box of pins for next year's office girls.
Michele Bonnette leaves her long legs to the track team.
Deborah Bourbeau leaves the 5% to be carried on by Leita.
Ellie Bourdeau leaves still laughing about the Congo Cruise.
Doug Brown leaves his time machine to Rzeer to beat anything in the quarter.
Stretch Brunelle leaves still throwing the bull with "Finky" after school.
Judy Cade leaves a case of "keep-awake" pills for all future Prize Speakers.
Rick Cadran leaves his football knowledge to Mr. Pratt.
Carol Campbell leaves a gas mask for Grasshopper.
Nancy Campbell leaves for the waves.
Michele Couture leaves still blushing.
Nancy Craig leaves her briefcase with all her books in it.
Michelo Currie leaves Mr. Avery a book on how to tell a good joke.
Neil Dargis leaves with only one thing to say "put that in your paper"
Beverly Dejnak leaves her locker to some poor freshman who carries an extra handle with him.
Lucie Denkewicz leaves still going over railroad tracks with her feet up.
Laurie Devino leaves in the direction of Lake Wyola.
Mouse Dion leaves Burger Chef and Santa Claus to Wondo, in case he needs a good laugh.
Nancy Dlugoenski leaves still giving the peace sign with one finger.
Marilyn Dobosz leaves the high school to all the upcoming freshmen.
John Dymerski leaves his highly developed brain.
Steve Fairbrother leaves all practical chemistry and physics classes to hear Captain Carle's versions of the war.
Danny Felton leaves his track shoes to his brother.
Sharon Felton leaves "poemtry" to Mr. Oakes.
Michelle Ferland leaves Deb and Dick in peace to ride up to school alone.
Denny Fugere leaves the name "Fenise" echoing in 101.
Pat Garbiel leaves an old school with some good teachers in it.
Linda Gillon leaves her flute to Kathy Aubry.
Debbie Gilmore leaves Billy Dion in first period study hoping he can find someone else to tease next year.
Chick Golembeski leaves Bread and Neil Young in the A.V. room.

Norma Gould leaves her heart in 001.
Carol Gruszkowski leaves walking up the boardwalk to her sister.
Linda Haigis leaves the field to the players.
Jeanne Hastings leaves wondering why she was there.
Chrys Iwanowicz leaves one worn pair of white bucks for anyone who wears a 6½ and wants to be in the band.
Cathy Jablonski leaves the right hand end of the cheering line, behind the wall of the stage, to an upcoming varsity cheerleader.
Pete Jefferson leaves to watch TFHS sink further down into a vast pit, remembering it was once a highly rated school of education.
Robert Kells leaves his Captain Math sweatshirt for Mr. Garbiel.
Pat Kelsey leaves her place for some other unsuspecting soul.
Eugene Kennedy leaves his wits and jokes to his brother, his bicycle seats to Dean Wonsey and his "Mad" magazines to Steve Tatro.
Jo Klepadlo leaves with her name still pronounced wrong.
Annette Kuzdizal leaves the thrill of getting up at 6:30 to ride on the Montague Girls' Bus to her sister.
Joan Lafleur leaves the school and the teachers to whom ever is smart enough to put them to good use.
Tom LaPointe leaves a case of aspirin for anyone who attempts to take his place in Mr. Garbiel's class.
Joe LaRoche leaves Rzeer a brand new pair of p.f.'s.
Barb Laskoski leaves $96.42 to anyone who has to buy Mr. Meehan food during Prize Speaking.
Rose Lawor leaves all her memories to TFHS, the teachers, and the kids.
Sue LeMaire leaves Mole to find someone else to hide her smoke.
Bird Letourneau leaves Mrs. Martin with the memory of a beautifully decorated cake.
Debbie Little leaves TFHS to '72 hoping they have the same senior year she had, and saying "good luck".
Dorothy Lucas leaves her perfect attendance to anyone fortunate enough to be sick.
Leigh Maddern leaves her mother in the guidance office.
Sandra Martin leaves her position as FNA president to anyone short enough to speak to the advisor without being told to sit down.
Dale Mathey leaves room 104 to the local zoo-keeper.
Charles Molongoski leaves Twiggy standing by the first floor girls' room.
Bruce Morin leaves the whole school for anyone who can get more out of it than he did.
Pete Mosseau bequeathes his hair style to whomever can satisfactorily imitate it.
Mike Nagle leaves all the cats he has shot to Royboy.
Barb Napikoski leaves a roll of gauze and adhesive tape to the clutz of the class of '72.
Sally Otto leaves the forgotten colorguard to Kathy.
Nadine Parent leaves U.S. History to anybody who wants it.
Noreen Parent leaves her hope for a new school to the freshmen who might get to see it.
Steve Parenteau leaves Captain Math, posing as mild mannered mystical master of math to fight a never ending battle against unsolved equations and mathematical errors.

Yuette Paul leaves her pink carnations to Gail Ducharme with luck.
Lynn Perry leaves Mrs. Sabato's office to the contact wearers of the class of '72.
Bob Remillard leaves to Mr. Garbiel a broken slide rule and a crushed book.
Cathy Reum leaves still wishing she could understand Mr. Slatterly's physics.
Bill Rogers leaves an enormous head to room 104 to be dissected.
Li'l Rubashkin leaves his bod.
Sue Rushford leaves Mrs. Redelberger her darn commas to put where she wants them to be.
Barb St. Germain leaves her bottle of excedrin to Mr. Garbiel's math classes.
Jo-Ann Sargent leaves Mrs. Redelberger to peace and quiet.
Pinnie Sears leaves Karen and Bob red sweaters for reflection's sake.
Brenda Stone leaves Mr. Bassett still hunting for her Lunch A smoking place.
Jeff Supernant leaves his boots in 305.
Katie Sweeney leaves disappointed at not having made the football team, just because she's a girl.
Don Tela leaves first period study halls to any student who likes "Turn-Off".
Eileen Terrill leaves Mr. Meehan two boxes of Pillsbury brownie mix.
Tugger Togneri leaves to play center for the Boston Celtics.
Mary Valley leaves her brother enough patience to survive two more years in 202.
Margaret Wasileski leaves trying to beat the busses out of the parking lot.
Terry Welsh leaves two football cleats, a slightly used package of pep pills, and a crowbar to tear down his glorious old locker.
Barb Wiacek leaves Senior Math to anyone who can understand it.
Diane Wojtdowski leaves TFHS to her brother.

Built to last.

Like the Zippo, a veteran of the Anzio landing.

Like the watch — fifty-three years of marking every moment on the second.

Like Mack, the name that became a synonym for strength and reliability.

And like "our crowd" we don't rest on our laurels. Years ago we stepped ahead of the giants by introducing the first, Double-Insulated, Shock-Proof power tool to the American public.

We build the same innovation and craftsmanship into our hand tool and metal cutting lines.

Know us by the company we keep.
